President Report 6th July 2015

“Words are free. It’s how you use them that may cost you” Anonymous.

This has nothing to do with the new Sergeant in town or does it!
I’ve always admired strong, silent types, people with great poker faces. One’s who have extraordinary command over their emotions. Those who think carefully about what they intend to say so they can articulate it well the first time around. I am most definitely not one of them.

I think out loud, I can form decently thoughtful opinions on just about anything. I’m rarely at a loss for words (after all I am an honest used car salesman). I wear my heart and my emotions on my sleeve. Words can be incredibly powerful tools.

But they can also be incredibly powerful—often unintentional—weapons. Can you relate? Have you ever had that experience before?

What I’m learning as I go is that it’s so important to be careful and thoughtful with the words you choose to use. Sure, processing information or your thoughts out loud in front of someone else can be a powerful form of clarity and conflict resolution. But, can also do the opposite, creating confusion and chaos, instead.

When you use words as bridges instead of bombs, just about all of your relationships will change for the better.

And in the end, relationships are the things that matter most. So be thoughtful and gentle with every word you say, starting now.

Thank you to all those who attended the meeting last Monday. We had 32 attendees including members and guests.

This exchange student program - what an incredibly powerful program it is and as a club we are truly proud of supporting it. With “Hello everybody” Maxx let us into his “living the dreams”. Thank-you Maxx for sharing your dreams with us. We will miss you mate.

We will be there on this Saturday to see Maxx off at the airport.

Next week our speaker is from Sydney Fish Market, which was established in 1945 by the state government and was privatized in 1994. It is the world’s third largest fish market and the speaker is going to walk us through the workings of the Fish Market, the future and all about sustainable fishing.

It will be a very interesting talk - join us next Monday to hear more about it - till then have a wonderful week.

Flight Announcement British-Airways (1)

Shortly after a British Airways flight had reached its cruising altitude, the captain announced: "Ladies and Gentlemen, this is your captain. Welcome to Flight 293, non-stop from London Heathrow to New York ..

The weather ahead is good, so we should have a smooth, uneventful flight. So, sit back, relax, and.....OH... MY GOD!"

Silence followed.

Some moments later, the captain came back on the intercom.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I'm sorry if I scared you. While I was talking to you, a flight attendant accidentally spilled coffee in my lap. You should see the front of my pants!"

From the back of the plane, an Irish passenger yelled.....

"For the luvva Jaysus.....you should see the back of mine
